1-28	ONLINE EVENTS - Black History Month Kingston: MyKingstonKids in partnership with Harambee are proud to present the fourth year of Black History Month Kingston. Most Black History Month Kingston programming will be held virtually through various online platforms. Saturday, February 6 will feature a virtual annual Kick O-ff event including art exhibits, performances, spoken word, dance, and more. The month will include lectures and workshops, along with a special Sojourner Truth Life Community Ride, performances, dances, virtual business mixers and more. blackhistorymonthkingston.org
6	ONLINE EVENT - "The Killing Fields:" The Department of Theatre Arts at SUNY New Paltz kicks off its spring 2021 production lineup with virtual readings of "The Killing Fields," a modern adaptation of epic Greek literature set against the backdrop of the 1980's crack epidemic. "The Killing Fields," written by Anya Pearson, and directed by Associate Professor of Theatre Arts Martine Green-Rogers, recasts the Greek playwright Aeschylus's tragedy of King Agamemnon, widely known to modern readers as the Greek commander during the Trojan War. Saturday, Feb. 6, 7 p.m. and Sunday, Feb. 7, 2 p.m. Guests are required to RSVP in advance https://newpaltz.edu/fpa/theatre/the-killing-fields-rsvp/ Reservations are offered on a "pay what you can" scale and are limited to four tickets per person. newpaltz.edu/fpa/theatre/
6	FREE ONLINE EVENT: Ninth Annual Winter Hoot: Hoot from Home: Mike and Ruthy of The Mammals present a curated live-streamed broadcast of archival highlights from past Winter Hoot festivals, live ice sculpture by Thomas Brown and down-home, down-to-earth musical performances beamed in from very special guests across the hemisphere. Lodging and Day Pass guests enjoy outdoor ice sculpture and music via outdoor speaker. Purchase Lodging and Day Pass tickets online. Ashokan Center, 477 Beaverkill Road, Olivebridge. 845-657-8333; info@ashokancenter.org ; ashokancenter.org
Feb 6-April 11	Spring Exhibitions: "Collective Consciousness, New York by SUNY New Paltz Art Faculty" (through April 11); Feb. 6-July 11: "Lewis Hine, Child Labor Investigator;" "Kathy Goodell: Intra Loop, Selections 1994-2020" and "DIRT: Inside Landscapes." Museum hours: Wednesday-Sunday, 11 a.m.-5 p.m., Samuel Dorsky Museum of Art, SUNY New Paltz, 1 Hawk Drive, New Paltz. 845-257-3844; newpaltz.edu/museum
7	DENIZEN THEATRE: "Why We Can't Sleep: Women's New Midlife Crisis." A conversation with Author Ada Calhoun. Noon, 2 & 4 p.m. $20. Includes autographed book. Water Street Market, 10 Main St., Suite 501, New Paltz. 845-303-4136; denizen theatre.com
11	ONLINE EVENT - Valentine's Embroidery Workshop: No sewing experience necessary. Class will include a hoop, embroidery thread, needle, instructions and shipping. Also includes a 10% off coupon to be used in advance of the workshop at Salix Intimates in New Paltz. Bring an article of intimates or something you would love to embroider on. Prepare a hand-written, memorized or borrowed poem to either read aloud or slip into your undies - whether meant for you or gifted to another. $40 minimum donation per person. $60 for "couples" if at same location. 7-9:30 p.m. Circle Creative Collective, 62 Plains Rd, New Paltz. 845-481-0739; circlecreativecollective.org
12-14	"The Lovers' Waltz:" Join Jay Ungar and Molly Mason for a virtual Ashokan Music and Dance Camp, where they'll teach six selections from their best-selling album, "The Lovers' Waltz." Enjoy two days of fiddle, guitar and piano classes. Melody players will learn the basic tunes, plus harmony, ornamentation, and expression, and accompanists will learn chords, bass runs, dynamics and rhythm techniques. There'll also be concerts, jams, a camper song and tune circle, and two lunch hangouts. The event will wrap up with a Valentine's Day concert—dance-along, play-along, or just listen to beautiful waltzes and classics from country music, jazz and more. The Ashokan Center, 477 Beaverkill Rd., Olivebridge. 845-246-2121; ashokancenter.org/lovers-waltz-weekend-2021
